1. this week at the markets

Welcome to 2008! I hope you all had a great holiday. Most of the markets are up and running this week. U Vic isn't open this week, but will have two market days, starting next week. We're starting two new community markets this Saturday, one at Pearkes Arena and the other at the Garry Oak Room, Fairfield Community Centre. Please see the schedule below for market hours.

Though winter is upon us, we still have access to some wonderful local and regional produce. We've sourced from as close to home as possible and have rounded out the list with some favourites that don't grow in our region - avocados, bananas and oranges. Where can you find all this wonderful organic produce? At the Pocket Markets, of course!!!
