

Hijacked Future - Who Controls the Seed Controls Our Food

Posted by

Sunday, 21 September 2008 06:38 - Last Updated Sunday, 21 September 2008 06:38

---

Hijacked Future - Who Controls the Seed Controls Our Food

Vancouver Island Vegetarian Association - Linda - Friday, September 19th, 2008, 7:00 PM to 9:00 PM - Concerned about food security and global warming issues

In this documentary, while our food supplies give the illusion of being secure, this film points out that everything rides on a few inches of top soil, which is eroding; a handful of seeds whose diversity is not only dwindling but is being encouraged to dwindle to enable tighter corporate control; and the availability of water which is also decreasing in many agricultural regions.

A well-written article / review of Hijacked Future by Stephen Hume of the Vancouver Sun (Mar. 19/08) titled "Seeds of Destruction" provides the following, "Where there were once approximately 7,000 commercial sources of seeds for farmers, Springbett